THE WORLD OF LONDON.

CHRONICLED AND CRITICISED BY MR. ED-MUND YATES.

THE QUEEN'S COMING CONTINENTAL TRIP-THE BOYAL BETROTHAL-EMPRESS FREDERICK IN BERLIN-THE AGRICULTURAL

CONFERENCE-THE HAMILTON PALACE HEIRLOOMS CASE. [BY CABLE TO THE TRIBUNE.]

Copyright 18v1 : By The Tribune Association. ndon, Dec. 7.-The Queen will not leave England ment until March 29 or 30, and Her sty's plans of foreign travel are quite undecided. sitary arrangements and water supply of Fior rill scarcely have been organized so soon, and at nt the chances are greatly in favor of the Queen sing to Aix les Bains, as the air of that place suits imirably, and she is always much better for the is and massage treatment. M. Dosse, who has man-Continental journeys of the Queen and the o of Wales since the sudden death of Kanne, has travelling along the Riviera in search of a house which might suit Her Majesty as a temporary residence ming April, and, after passing a few days at Cape in Hotel, of which establishment and its surround s he dispatched a most favorable report to Windsor. went to San Remo and thence to Genoa. The Queen ses not care to pay another visit to Grasse, and will so to Cannes. M. Dosse was instructed to make guites along the coast between Genoa and Spezia. stiful little seaside village near Porto Fino, and account of the beauty of that district inspired the owen with a strong desire to visit it. The late Lord even built a large villa on the wooded hills above Porso Fino, but it would require two such houses to pmish accommodation for the Queen, with her suite od sevants.

THE QUEEN NOT GOING TO DENMARK There is not the slightest foundation for the report hat the Queen will go to Denmark next May in order who present at the celebration of the golden wedding King Christian and Queen Louise on May 26, nor I true that Emperor William is expected there. this the family gathering to celebrate this anniwill be postponed to the end of August.

THE ROYAL BETROTHAL WELL-RECEIVED. The announcement of the approaching marriage of Duke of Clarence and the Princess Victoria Mary set has been received with universal salisfaction. It s a marriage which will be more popular, since it is ther an eccentric nor sensational one, like some ther marriages which have occurred in the royal fam The Duke and Princess, although nearly, are not too nearly related, and they have had plenty of seportunities of becoming acquainted with one an other's disposition and tastes. Both of them are old mough to know their own minds, and there is no pronounced or ridiculous disparity in their ages. PRINCE GEORGE OF WALES.

Prince George of Wales is to go to the seaside to roll his health as soon as he is well enough to travel, and the Queen has offered to place Osborne cottage at his disposal. This is the best of the small ees wihln the Royal demesne, and has been exapted at various times by the Princess of Wales. Empress Engenie and the Duchess of Edinburgh

EMPEROR WILLIAM AND HIS MOTHER. The sudden return of Empress-Frederick to Berlin revoked much gossip there, for it was well known hel Her Majesty latterly intended passing the early part of the winter in Italy. The Empress had not sadle of February, just before her very unfortunate tist to Paris. Emperor William is believed to have sent an urgent invitation to his mother. It is not secret that the relations between Empress Frederick and her eldest son have been exceedingly strained for everal months, and so far as can be seen there does not appear to be much prospect of their ever being upon rally cordial terms for any length of time. A sore of bad-tempered understanding was patched up be by the tracasseries which resulted from the Empress ging to Paris, and there were circumstances con the Emperor's visit to England which caused much

THE KAISER AS A PATRON OF THE TURF The German Emperor has rather a dislike for racing because he regards it as giving encouragement pambling, but he is indirectly the largest owner of scelares in Germany, as the Graditz stud belo to the Crown and the horses trained there have won and has been credited with nearly £12,500, while the other owners who have more than £4,000 are Her May, Herr Simon, Prince Furstenberg and Baron shout 1,000,000 francs, half of which consists in a life insurance policy. This fortune will be inherited THE DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE LIKELY TO DIE.

AN ARCHDUKE'S FORTUNE. The Archduke Henry of Austria left behind him

I hear upon indisputable authority that no exp stion is entertained by his family of the recovery of the Duke of Devonshire. The weakness from which alone he has been suffering advanced rapidly during the last week. The danger of his demise may not be immediate, but the medical advisers consider it a question of time and probably short time only. THE LORD MAYOR'S MISFORTUNES.

Lord Mayor is having a run of misfirtune. He sustained a severe domestic affliction on the eve of entering office and last week his manufactory at Sethnal Green was totally destroyed by fire. leri Mayor was sufficiently insured, but the fire wil muse some inconvenience to business, besides throwing the hands, principally girls, out of work in the winter

WILL NOT CONTEST THE SEAT. Mr. Reginald Brett, who has been for several year Separatist candidate for the Southeast Division of Cornwall, has finally decided not to proceed with the con test, having discovered that he has not the slightest thance of success, Mr. Courtney's seat being perfectly

THE PROJECTED AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCE. The show, or rather the sham conference of agrifultural delegates, which is to take place in London week has been arranged with much difficulty. h has been almost impossible to get any number of passine agricultural delegates, and most people wh will appear in that character are merely Radical gotters from different localities. The promoter of the tring desired also to have representatives of the homers, but the response made from this class has ben exceedingly small. A few Radical farmers will reded as if they spoke for the agricultural ter this of the whole country. The farmer has generally sublesome distrust of a Radical agitator, and even ence of Mr. Gladstone will not be sufficient to far any genuine representative tenant farmers to the

DGLAND'S STATE OF PREPARATION FOR WAR. Sr George Chesney may or may not be entitled to as he does in the current "Nineteenth the absence in the War Office of any definite or provision of the wants of the country for peace or war; but this I do know, that in ce with the prepared scheme in the possession dencers of superior command we should be able to nobilized and fully equipped in all respects, at ports of embarkation before the transports could be to receive them an army corps at the full This is not mication force of 18,000 men. act, but at least it is something definite. he and equip a second army corps would require HANESS OF W. H. RUSSELL.

Dr. W. H. Russell, who has been dangerously il with inflammation of the lungs, is now, I hear, convalescent, proceed with Mrs. Russell to Egypt for of several months. They intend to make Cairo

THE HAMILTON PALACE HEIRLOOMS CASE. The Court of Sessions gave judgment last week familiton Palace heirlooms case, and the decision of the judges upheld the claim brought by the Crewn against the Duke of Hamilton for about £23,000 as legacy duty upon the value of the art treasures and the library which were sold by him in 1882-It appears that the sales realized £550, there still remains in Hamilton Pal an art collection valued at £150,000. Duty to be paid upon the estates both of the lenth Duke, who died in 1852, and the eleventh Duke. lied in 1863. The collections were settled as his, subject to certain conditions, by the tenth grandfather of the present Duke, and the cas

LORNE'S MONOGRAPH ON PALMERSTON Marquis of Lorne's monograph on Lord Palmer

to be a work of much interest, for the author has been able to obtain very valuable personal reminiscences from both the Queen and the Duke of Argril; understand that Her Majesty permitted him to make use of a portion of her correspondence with Lord Palmersion, all of which is preserved in Buckingham

ROSA BONHEUR'S NEW PAINTING. Rosa Bonheur has just completed her latest and largest work. It has occupied the whole of her time at Le Depiquagne during three years, and represents ter horses, life size, treading out grain. She has declined BEQUESTS OF THOMAS HYDE HILLS. Thomas Hyde Hills has, I understand, left a fortur of nearly £80,000, exclusive of pictures of horses and also exclusive of the splendid business of J. Bell & Co. The lucky recipients are his brother, nephews,

Two great pictures of Landseer lions go to the National Gallery; Landseer's portrait of himself goes to the Royal Academy; and there are also two legacies, of £500 each, to Mary Millais and Mary Quain, to whom Mr. Hills stood godfather. A SUCCESSFUL FRENCH ELECTRIC LAUNCH. It is stated that the French have been making son very successful experiments lately at Toulon with an electric launch named the Etincelle. I daresay Messrs.

CLUB EXHIBITIONS.

Immisch or Woodhouse & Rawson could go them one better. By the way, what has become of the Gymnote, which was to do such wonders! EDMUND YATES.

OLD ENGRAVINGS AND MODERN PAINTINGS.

Literature and art divide honors at the exhibition of engraved portraits of English authors from Chancer to Samuel Johnson which the Groller Club invites its friends to inspect during the next fourteen days. Admiration for the triumphs of the burin which it contains is mingled with interest in the men of letters of whom it is a memorial. Three hundred and fifty-three prints are exhibited, the work of 110 engravers. Nearly every one of the plates is a rarity, and some of them are priceless. The exhibition has been ar ranged alphabetically instead of chronologically. The two side walls of the club's gallery are hung with a single line of plates, and the rest are laid in that glassbooks, opened to show the frontispiece or title page. hose having been the favorite places for the reception of portraits of the old English authors. In fact, a large proportion of the portraits shown separately were originally taken from books. In some cases the frontisplece portraits are the only ones we have. Of Herrick, for Instance, there is no authentic portrait known save that which adorns the first edition of his 'Hesperides," published in 1648. There we see his in a classic landscape with pretty amorini gambolling been copied from this. Suckling, from whom Herrick plagiarized one of the most unforgettable of all quaint tributes to beauty's feet, appears here in one of the regular prints, that is to say, in Vertue's series of monumental engravings after authentic portraits of ome of England's noblest singers.

These prints of Vertue's are among the most precious of eighteenth century English engravings. He was an adept in his field and he had a capacity for taking pains which amounted almost to genius He sifted well the claims of a portrait before he en graved it, and when he had decided upon the model to follow he made his plate a beautiful work of art with architectural and emblematic borders. Fletcher Gower, Lydgate, most sanctimonious of all the visage here: Milton, Shakespeare, Spencer, Stow, Sidney as Waller, all are shown in his fine engravings club has other engravings of these men, original por traits too, but Vertue's plates are of a character deserve inclusion in an exhibition like the present irrespective of whatever else is shown. Some of hiplates are rare, moreover, in spite of his comparatively recent date. The splendid portrait of Matt Prior he engraved for the folio edition of the poet's works pu lished in 1719 is excessively hard to find. The folio furns up from time to time, but in every case the was made for the book and never really published portrait of Pope, done when the poet was still a young and elegant man just rising into fame. Another et graver of sterling ability whose plates are frequent and salient in this exhibition is Faithorne, a master almost, as that of Nanteuil, or Edelinck, and it easy to fancy his equalling those giants had he lived long enough and received judicious advice. As is is, some of his plates come very near the standard set by the great Frenchmen. Such a plate is his of Thomas Killegrew, the gifted, prolific and utterly abandoned favorite of Charles I. The impression of it shown here, an extremely rare one, has all the softness and sheen of a Nanteuil. Nanteuil himself is represented by a beautiful plate after a portrait of John Evelyn, the diarist. Grateloup, another great Frenchman, greater perhaps than Nanteuil, may be seen in a single plate. It is a very small one after the softness and sheen of a Nanteuil. Nanteuil himself een in a single plate. It is a very small one after the amous Kneller portrait of Dryden, and its greatnes onsists in a combination of miscroscopic and precision with a softness and beauty of textu hardly surpassed in the brond, velvety tones of the best workers in mezzotint. The secret of his method fascinated and baffled engravers ever since his of dozens of plates in this collection. He painted por truits of the forty-two members of the Kit Kat Club, and those members who belong to the literary heirarchy are shown here in Faber's well-known mezzotint Faber was a good artist, but I. Smith, his contemporary was a better. Smith did two of the same Knelle portraits that Faber did, the Addison and Congreve and he cast his colleague's work vastly in the shad and the transparent tones of his plates attest ever after all the wear and tear of fime. One or two other plates by Smith are here, a fine one niter Lelyi's Wycherley, and one, not quite so fine, after a portrait of Pone. Gaywood is an earlier engraver whose work is also interesting in a purely technical way. In the rare plate of Drumwood of Hawthornden he plough the copper with a stiff inflexible hand, but very ex pressively withal. Though the style is hard, it i the style of a competent artist. Drumwood look down upon us with more natural, because mor modernized, features in a noble mezzotint hanging next the Gaywood's engraving. The authorship of the plate is unknown. Caywood's plates are the two which preserve for us a likeness of virile Chapman, the Chap who "spoke out loud and bold" in his translation of Homer. Both these are contemporary portraits The first comes from the collective edition of the Iliad and the Odyssey published in 1616. In it the head is appropriately surrounded by cloud The engraving is a sharply outlined piece of work by Hole. The other is th title-page of the translatio of Homer's "Buttle of the Frogs and Mice." While we are among the first letters of the alphabet we may pause to note the rare engraving of De Foe by She win, the group of curious plates, some very scarce after Bacon (who, hardly ever, it is seen, was por trayed without a hat) the portraits of Gilbert Burnet Macaulay's great Bishop, of the dignified Robert Boyle of Richard Brathwait, who wrote "Barnaby's Journal' of Richard Brome, whose expression varies curiously as it is retouched for successive paintings of the same engraving, and of the handsome Duke of Buck ingham, the friend of Charles II, and one of Dryden' everest satisfies. The portrait frontispiece to one edition of Samuel Buffer is noticeable because it is one of the few plates of this sort that Hogarth ever engraved.

It is only necessary to attempt to consider the collection alphabetically to realize how far-reaching a ask is involved thereby. Chancer, Carey, Cowley (whose "Poeticall Blossomes," published in 1633, has a charm-ing print of the poet at thirieen), Drayton, Donne. Davenant, Florio ("The Montaigne Man"), Gray, Howell, Massinger, and so on through the catalogue of the worthies of English literature, every man of eminence is shown in some plate of interesting work-manship and more interesting history. To touch upon them all, to recapitulate a little of the anecdotal maerial that enriches them, is plainly impossible. But s few more of the treasures should be pointed out. The three portraits of Shakespeare, from the folio of 1632, by Droeshout; from the "Poems of 1640," by Marshall, nd from the "Rape of Lucrece" of 1655, by Faithorne the uncanny portrait of Droeshaut, from the paintin representing him in his shroud; the portraits of Sterne, of Milton and of Goldsmith. Only five women, figure in the exhibition, the lovely Anne Killigrew, the "late ingenious" ers. Aphra Behn, Katherine Philips, the matchless Orinda. Mrs. Centilvre and Lamb's cherished "Madge," the "thrice noble, illustrious and excellent Dutchess of Newcastle." Men and women, the authors pictured here make a mighty show.

York clubs and exhibiting pictures at their house, the roembers of the Alpha Delta Phi Club have wisely concentrated their efforts upon one display a year rather than upon half a dozen during the winter. This make a careful se tributed some striking works. Mr. Alden Weir, who swerved suddenly from still-life and portrait painting a year or so ago and devoted himself to the study of outdoor atmospheric effects, sends two able impressionistic landscapes. They have the charm of representing a season of the year that is commonly avoided by the professed "plein air" painter. To that individual, impressionism has come to mean almost exclusively the painting of bright sunlight, but Mr. Welr has rightly understood it to mean a specific way of painting any thing, whether cold or warm. In "A Frosty Morning" he is content to depict a cheerless scale having little terest by his acute analysis and presentment of clear chill atmosphere. In "An October Day" the presence of one or two flame-like autumn trees has given him opportunity to produce a work of richer and more vaques coloristic beauty. Mr. C. A. Platt has a panoramic "Winter Landscape" hanging appropriately next Mr. Welr's "Frosty Morning." It indicates a less intimate acquaintance with the finer shades of light effects, but it is strong in the bringing of distant planes into close, yet not too close, relations with the foreground, thus securing pictorial unity. It is to be noted with pleasure also that Mr. Platt has not been seduced into giving his snow too blue a tone. Mr. D. W. Tryon, in "A salt Marsh, December," shows, as both Mr. Weir "A salt Marsh, December," shows, as both Mr. Weir remains opportunity to produce a work of richer and more varied yet not too close, relations with the foreground, thus securing pictorial unity. It is to be noted with pleasure also that Mr. Platt has not been seduced into giving his snow too bine a tone. Mr. D. W. Tryon, in "A sait Marsh, December," shows, as both Mr. Weir and Mr. Platt show, how much there is that remains paintable in the bleakest and barest period of the year. A wide space of brown marsh, above this a steel blue sky, with a rift of white light, these are the materials out of which he has constructed a delicately colored and interesting, though very simple picture. The silence, as of a deserted plain, which is suggested in this picture, is suggested again in Mr. Coffin's "Evening Star," a study of still water inclosed by a thicket and dimly lighted by a fading sky. In another "Evening" here, by Mr. A. H. Wyant, the tender elegiac mood is put aside, and a Rousseau-like arrangement of dark trees against a bright sky obtains a bold, brilliant effect.

The special merit of Mr. Beckwith's "Lady with Gray Fur," which is among the most conspicuous of the figure pieces, is that it has been carried to a finish without the slips which so often disrigure his extremely vivacious and skilful work. The feeling of elasticity which is hinted in the pretty model's pose is diffused through the entire picture. The brush work is swift and expressive, the lively spirit of the picture is well sustained, it is a painting that might have been executed at one sitting, judging from the freshness and evenness of execution which it possesses. Mr. Wiles's two pictures, "Picking and Choosing," and "An Arrangement in Light Tones," both celebrate the fashionable girl of the period, as the "Lady with Gray Fur" does, and in both there is the same clever sketchy treatment of costume which distinguishes that picture. Mr. Wiles is happiest in his "Arrangement," evidently because he finds the medium used in ft, pastel, more favorable to deft, decisive handling. His oil study is equally "amusing" but has not quite the snap of his pastel. Mr. G study, agreeable in color, and Mr. Remington has, among the eight or ien watercolors one of his realistic Western sketches, a full-length portrait, on a small scale, of a cavalry sergeant. The general average of the exhibition, which is set by the pictures mentioned, is of a pleasing character. This average has only to be observed in succeeding exhibitions at this club-house for them to rank among the popular events of the art season.

THE UNION LEAGUE CLUB ELECTION.

A SECOND CIRCULAR ISSUED BY THE "STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN" SIDE.

A second circular has been issued in favor of the straight Republican" ticket of candidates for the ominating committee of the Union League Club. first one, which was sent out a week ago last night. ontained the names of 213 members who had indorsed the ticket. The other side, the "Independents, they are called, have not issued an appeal. The electakes place on Thursday evening, and will no doubt be largely attended. The second circular of the straight Republicans is as follows:

the straight Republicans is as follows:

In accordance with the new by-law of the club, the two tickets that are posted at the clubnouse containing the proposed names for a nominating committee to nominate officers for the ensuing year will be offered for the voic of members on the evening of the 10th inst., and the club secretary has accordingly sent out to members a list of all these names printed upon one healtot.

With due respect to those who may differ in wishes or opinion as to these tickets, it is deemed essential by the undersigned committee to present to you the issue involved in this election.

It will be seen that twelve names are new before the club for this nominating committee in the form of a general bellot, whereon are to be marked the seven names for which each member may choose to vote.

Of these twelve names thus proposed, five appear upon a ticket inspired by a coterie of Democratic sympathies and tendencies, five are presented by members of avowed Republicanism, and two Republican names appear upon both tickets.

The two tickets as posted are as follows:

The two tickets as posted are as follows: Straight Republican ticket. Mixed ticket. Hirdsey Blakeman, George L. Whitman, John W. Cochrane, Edward A. Quintard, Francis D. Lecompte, Payson Merrill, William H. Lefferts, Edward A. Onintard.

the club, asserting "that only Republicans should be admitted to membership."

A vote for the mixed ticket is a vote to inaugmrate and indorse the sophism of Democratic representation upon the committees of a Republican club.

A vote for the straight Republican club, a grainst such political heresy in a Republican club, and in favor of maintaining its time-honored political integrity and preserving its distinctive traditions.

The history of the achievements of the Union League (Into stamp it indellibly as a Republican association, and it has so been universally regarded for upward of a ounter of a century.

Your presence and vote is carnestly requested at the election on Thursday evening, the 10th inst., in support of the straight Republican ticket.

Each name on the ballet desired to be voted should be designated by a mark against it.

By order of the Conference Committee.

GRANT SQUIRES, Secretary.

New-York, Dec. 5, 1891.

THE MORTGAGE-HOLDERS TAKING ACTION Ballston, N. Y., Dec. 7 .- A meeting of the person living in this region who hold mortages assigned by the Nebraska and Kansas Farm Loan Company was afternoon at the office of James W. Verbeck, attorney and counsellor, to consider what actio the validity of such mortgages, and the present status of such llens. The company, which had its officer money from persons in this neighborhood and sent it West for investment in farm mortgages. It took these nortzages from the settlers at 10 per cent per annum, and assigned them to its patrons, the latter to receive 7 per cent. About $400,000 was thus placed n the hands of this company for such investment. some doubts having arisen of late as to the validity and present tenure of these liens, this meeting was called to take action thereon. About fifty of the mortgage holders, were present either in person ounseller-proxy representing $150,000 of these loans Letters were read from county treasurers and other officials, and also from owners of the mortgaged lands in Nebraska and Kansas, saying that in many instance no taxes or interest had been paid by the mortgagers from the date of the mortgages, and that also in many other instances the property thus moregaged had been sold for taxes and had been bought by J. A. Tulleys, of Red Cloud, vice-president and treasurer of the con representatives that Henry Clark, of Albany, formerly president of the company; Mr. Tulleys and A. the company, but have sold their stock, and that the company has no office and no funds. Mr. Wands said that he had disposed of his stock. A representative of the mortgage-holders will be sent West to make an investigation and to report what further action is necessary. By the terms of the assignments to the mortgage-holders the company guaranteed the payment of these mortgages, principal and interest.

Teachers, stenographers, typewriters, coachimen, wait ers, cooks, gardeners, and, in short, all classes of people, find it to their advantage to use The Tribune's culumns of short advertisements.

M'GLORY HELD FOR EXAMINATION.

Yorkville Police Court was crowded yesterday at examination of "Billy" McGlory, the proprietor of the torious place at Irving Place and Fourteenth-st., and twelve men and five girls who were captured in the raid made by Captain Clinchy on Sunday night. Nellio Martin of No. 219 East Twenty-third-st., charged that McGlory maintained a disorderly house, where, she alleged, the waiters, known as "Joo" and "Teddy," nightly defrauded its customers. On one occasion she saw a drunken ma

At 8 o'clock resterday morning Captain Clinchy, wi a section of policemen, marched out of the station-hou with seventeen of the prisoners. All, with the exception of McGiory, had been locked up overnight. He was reave. He arrived in the courtroom at the same time that Captain Clinchy appeared with the other prisoners, who were locked up in the pens. After the morning "watch" was disposed of, McGlery was called to the bar. His law-yer caked for an adjournment in his case, and McGlery logs which compose the second annual exhibition now open at the clubhouse, the majority are new and admirable. The landscapes particularly have contributed some striking works. Mr. Alden Weir, who swerved suddenly from still-life and portrait painting van were fined $10 each.

> VARIETY AND FRENCH SONGS. POPULARITY OF PAULUS EUCCESS OF MILE.

There can be no question about the succe Paulus. On the first night it might be supposed that French people enough would be present to show a degree of enthusiasm that could not afterward be kept up by that part of the general public that ordinarily supports an entertainment of the sort in which he ap-pears. But the test of a week has shown that the French singer and pantomimist can draw other than his own people to hear and see him, and that he can please them all alike and gain the same warm greeting from all. There are other performers beside Paulus at Koster & Blai's concert hall, but they seem comparatively insignificant, and a large part of the audience comes in each night at 10 o'clock, and goes out again as soon as Paulus is done. His singing always pleases, in pantomime that he finds the most appreciation This would probably be the case anywhere, but here it is naturally and almost necessarily so. When Paulus sings there are many present, no doubt, who under-stand what he says, yet there are more who do not. But when he acts, and says no word, everybody understands him. He has a rare power of expressing himself in a universal language, that is done spoken. He tells his story with his face, his fingers, his legs, his arms, his shoulders-every movement clear, and its import undoubted. It is not incidents alone that he can express in this way, but feelings, wishes and impulses. He gives a most amusing en ertainment, and affords a most interesting study. Paulus aroused much enthusiasm last night by singing, for the first time here, the "Boulanger March. There is also a French singer at Tony Pastor's, who pleases in a wholly different way. Mile. Juniori Valarez is attractive in person and has a pleasant voice. There have been variety entertainers within popularity, and deserved it, in spite of excruciating voices, but this young French woman will have her voices, but this young French woman will have her voice to help her. She will have the help, too, of a charmingly arch and piquant manner, which is free from all coarseness, a point that cannot be too much emphasized when the other French concert hall singers that have recently left New-York are remembered, but Tony Fastor's company is cosmopolitan. It still has its good American and English features, never forgetting the Irish. The robust Maggie Cline reappeared last night, after her temporary interruption of robustness, and the walls again echoed to her vigorous sougs and the delighted appliause that followed thereupon. The Eastern necromancer, Sahib Ben Hommed; the Morrello Bro hers, balancers; Sam Dearin, the comic musician, and some trained dogs and birds are among the other features.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY.

Mrs. William Astor will give her first large dinner party of the winter on the evening of December 22, when it is hoped that Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Francklyn have sent out invitations for a dinner party in honor of Mrs. M. O. Roberts and Colonel Ralph Vivian, to be given at their house in Washington Square on Monday evening, Mrs. Marshall O. Roberts will give a dinner party on Monday evening, December 21, when it is expected that her future husband, Colonel Vivian, will be in this country. He will sail from Liverpool on Saturday of this week. Mr. and Mrs. H. McK. Twombly gave a dinner last night for their nieces, Miss Adele Sloane and Miss Edith Shepard. The dinner was for young people. Mrs. Donglas Stewart Grant, who was formerly Miss Isabei Scott, held the first of ferles of Monday re eptions yesterday afternoon. Miss Scott, Miss Otis and Miss Bradhurst poured tea. Among the were Mr. and Mrs. Reginald De Koven, Miss Cowdin, Mrs. Scott, Bond Emerson, Julian Potter, A. W. Bibby, M. A. Wilks, John G. Beresford, the Misses Cameron, Miss Baker, Henry Redmond and J. W. Woodfield. Receptions will be given this afternoon by Mrs.

Magrane Coxe to introduce her sister, Miss Allee 'rawford, Mrs. James Harriman for her doughter, Miss Harriman, and Mrs. Carlos de Garmendia for her daughter, Miss de Garmendia. Mrs. John T. Hall's dancing class will hold its first meeting at the Mendelssohn Rooms to-night. These meetings will be held fortnightly until the middle of February.

WEDDINGS PAST AND TO COME.

The wedding of Miss Mattie Mitchell to the Duc de la Rochefoucauld, according to a letter received from Paris yesterday, will take place in Paris about the last of January. The papers necessary to the marriage of an American in Paris are being drawn up.

The wedding of Miss Maud Miller, daughter of James E. Miller, to Charles E. Proctor will take place this evening at the Church of the Heavenly Rest. The marriage of Philip Gunther to Miss Jennie Vandervoort Young took place at the home of the ride's mother. No. 150 West One-hundred and-thirtiethlast evening, and was one of the prettiest home weeddings seen in Harlem this winter. The usher were Warner S. Young and Will Hamlyn Duval. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gunther started for an Chicago, Dec. 7 (Special),-Moses Wentworth, nephew of the noted "Long John" Wentworth, was finarried to day to Miss Lizzie S. Hunt, daughter of the lafe Charles H. Hunt. Mr. Wentworth is perhaps the richest of chiesgo's young men, and his wife has $1,000,000 in her own name, left to her by her father.

It is said that Charles Frohman's company is likely to go to London at the end of the New-York and Chicago engagements and play "The Lost Paradise." Forbes Robertson represents Mr. Frohman in England A professional matinee of "Miss Hellyet" will be tiven at the Star Theatre this afternoon.

Herrmann's Theatre, which was closed last evening, will reopen to-night with "The Junior Partner.

Miss Ione Dunham, a chorus singer in "La Cigale," it the Garden Theatre, has of late been receiving the congratulations of her friends on account of an inheritance of $125,000 from an uncle who died in El-mira. It is regarded as a better stroke of fortune, theatrically, than having one's diamonds stolen.

Mr, Harrigan has again postponed the production of "The Last of the Hogans." The date now an nounced for it is December 21.

Are you in need of anything! Then look at The Tribune's many column the ninth page to-day. "THE MIDNIGHT BELL" IN BROOKLYN.

At the Lee Avenue Academy, in Brooklyn, Hoyt's "Midnight Bell" was played to a large house last evening. It was received with many marks of favor. Next week

Gus Williams will be seen in "Keppler's Fortunes." DRNEST A. JURGENS COMING BACK. The stockholders of the Eden Musee American Company et at the Musee yesterday, but failed to take any deisive action in regard to the former manager and business

The president, Theodore Heliman, made a report, showing that the accounts of the Musco were $15,000 short, and further consideration of the affair was deferred till January 4, in order that an expert examination of the books might de and the advice of counsel taken. Mr. Heliman said that he had received a cable dispatch from Mr. Jurgens declaring that the published statement that he had run away was false, and that to prove it he had taken passage to return to New-York and place himself in the hands of the directors.

DEATH OF SENATOR ROBERTSON'S MOTHER. Mrs. Huldah Robertson, ninety years old, the mother of Illiam H. Robertson, ex-Collector of the Port of New-York died at the home of her daughter at Cross River, Katonah,

THEY WANT NO MORE BARROOMS. large number of people gathered in Grace Methodis night to listen to speeches opposing the granting of new liquor licenses in the district bounded by Central Park, the Hudson River, Fighty-sixth-st, and One-hundred-and-tenth-st. The meeting was held under the auspices of the tenth-st. The meeting was neid under the adoptice of the West Side Excise Reform Association, which was organized has spring to oppose the granting of new licenses, for the restriction of the sale of spirituous liquors in the district to promote the passage of more stringent excise laws and to secure the enforcement of existing laws and regulations. Lorettus S. Metcalf, the president, presided. Father of the Paulist Fathers, made a telling speech agrainst the rum-hop. The Rev. D. Strobridge, of St. Andrew's Methodist Episcopal Church, followed Father He made an earnest and stirring arraignment or shop. In his remarks he said that public school No. 58, in Fifty-second-st., was almost hemmed in by twenty-five rumshops, some of them not twenty-five fest away from the door. The Mayor did not try and did not ave, alone, from Eighty-sixth-st. to One-hundred-and-tenth liceman in full uniform go into the side door of a barroom Sunday in broad daylight.

OBITUARY.

MRS. MARY HELEN PECK CRANE.

Asbury Park, N. J., Dec. 7 (Special).-Mrs. Mary Helen Peck Crane, of this place, died this morning at Paterson, at the age of sixty-eight years. She was the widow of the Rev. Dr. Jonathan M. Crane, of the Newark Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopa Church, and only daughter of the Rev. Dr. George Peck, the well-known author. Mrs. Crane's grandfather, Mr. Myers, owned the farm in the Wyoming Valley on which the Indian massacre occurred. Methodist Episcopal Church. For over forty years she took an active part in mission and temperance work and during the last fifteen years of her life she was Christian Temperance Union. Seven of her fourteer J. Townley Crane and Stephen Crane, of Asbury Park Judge William Howe Crane and Wilbur F. Crane, of Port Jervis, N. Y.: George Peck Crane, of Ridgewood, N. J., and Edmund B. Crane, of Lake View. Funeral services will be held in the Market Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Paterson, on Wednesday at 11 o'clock a. m.

JOHN JACOB DENIKE. Peckskill, N. Y., Dec. 7 (Special).-John Jacob Denike, the most prominent drygoods merchant of this place and a well-known citizen, died at the home of Mayor Stephen D. Horton yesterday noon. Mr. Denike was born in New-York City on October 1, 1851, and was the son of Jacob A. and Louisa Denike. He early came to Peekskill and for some years was in partner ship with his brother. He married the eldest daughter of John Halstead, who is a Chinese Immigration Commissioner at Morristown, N. Y. Mr. Denike leaves two children. He was the treasurer of Coretand Hook and Ladder Company No. 1. He was also an Odd Fellow, a member of Cryptic Lodge, No. 75, I. O. O. F. He was a prominent member of St. Paul's Church and Sunday-school. He had never held political or public office, but was a stanch Republican.

William H. Jackson, a well-known inventor and one of the first contractors for the Singer Manufacturing Company, died yesterday at his home in Elizabeth, N. J., at the age of fifty-seven. Mr. Jackson was for many years superintendent of the needlemaking de-partment of the Singer Sewing Machine Works and made numerous improvements in needlemaking ma-He also invented a machine for making hairpins, and organized the Jackson & Foot Manufacturing Company. Mr. Jackson sunk much money in the enterprise, which failed. He was a prominent mem-ber of the First Baptist Church of Elizabeth, and one of its trustees. He was a strong Republican in politics and leaves a wife, son and daughter.

EDWIN E. HOLT. Chicago, Dec. 7 (Special).-Edwin E. Holt, a retired and wealthy Minneapolis merchant, died suddenly this morning at the home of his son-in-law, Frank D. Mr. Holt was seventy years of age. He came from Minneepolis a short time ago on a visit. At breakime Mr. Holt suddenly fell to the floor and ex-before medical attention could be procured.

MRS. SARAH JOHNSON. Florence, Dec. 7 .- Mrs. Sarah Johnson, of Bucksport, Me., died in this city to-day.

The Game of Christmas.

The Game of INNOUENCE ABROAD is full of fun!
SUITED FOR ALL AGES. Played on a beautiful board. It is NOVEL and EXCITING. Sold everywhere.

Deerfoot Furm Sausages, in two-pound packages. See trade-mark (a deer's loot) is stamped on wrapper in red ink. Beware of imitations.

Liebig Company's Extract of Beef. Annual sale over eight million jars.

Perfect Comfort
can be secured by wearing the Alfred Dolge Felt Shoes and Slippers. Daniel Green & Co., 44 East 14th-st.

The Game of Innocence Abroad. Play this JOLLY NEW GAME OF TRAVEL!

Certain to Satisfy You. One bottle of Pisa's Cure for onsumption will convince you of its wonderful efficacy.

BENNET-On Sunday, December 6, at the residence of her son, 19tick Church, N. J., of pneumonia, Amelia Howell, widow of the late Orlando Bennet.

Funeral services at her late residence, at Bellport, Long Island, Wednesday morning, December 9, upon the acrival of the 8:30 train from Long Island City.

Western papers please copy.

CARR-On December 5, Emma Bynner, wife of E. Wheeler Carr and eldest daughter of T. B. Bynner, formerly of reoklyn. erment private. nois and Indiana papers please copy. CORRY—Dec. 6, George C., aged 46 years. Funeral services at Trinity M. E. Church, 118th-st., be-tween 1st and 2d aves., Tuesday evening, Dec. 5, at 8 o'clock.

DAVENPORT-At Somerville, N. J., December 6, Elizabeth Leveridge, daughter of Frances M. and the late Thomas Davenport. uneral from her late residence on \ y, at 12 o'clock.
his from foot of Liberty-st. at 10.

Eliza H., widow of J. W. De Lamajer.
Funeral services at the First Baptist Church on Tuesday,
Sth Inst., at 10:30 a. m.
Train leaves foot of Barciay and Christopher sts. at 9:30
a. m.; carriages in waiting at Brick Church Sation.
DE LEON-December 0, 1891, sudden, of pneumonia,
Eille M. De Leon, widow of the late Edwin De Leon,
Funeral from Church of St. Francis Xavier, West 16th-st.,
Wednesday, December 9, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m.
GARRETSON—Suddenly, at Bound Brook, N. J., Joseph
C. Garretson, aged 32 years.
Funeral services at his late residence, corner Somerset and Hamilton sts., on Wednesday, December 9, at 2:30 p. m.

and Hamilton sts., on 2:30 p. m. nterment at the convenience of the family. KEELLER-On Sunday morning, December 6, Mary E., wife of John E. Keeler, in the 83d year of her age. Funeral services at her late residence, 75 Hart-st., Brook-lyn, on Tuesday, December S. at 1 o'clock, p. m. months.

Funeral services at the First Baptist Church on Tuesday.

Shi hist, at 10:30 a.m.

Train leaves foot Barclay and Christopher sts. at 9:30 a.m.

Carriages in waiting at Brick Church Station.

Spec Notice

MORTIMER—On Friday, December 4, at his late residence, 31 West 34th-st., William Yates Mortimer, son of the late Richard Mortimer, in the 65th year of his age. Puneral services at house at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, December.

December 8.

It is kindly requested that no flowers be sent.

NORTON-On Monday, December 7, 1891, Roxana Norton, acrd 87 years and one month.

Funeral services at her late residence, 99 Eckford-st., Brooklyn, N. Y., on Wednesday morning, December 9, at 10 o'clock.

Interment at Ridgefield, Conn.

OUALI William on Monday, December 7, 1891, acrd 57.

QUAIL-William on Monday, December 7, 1891, aged 57. Relatives and friends invited to attend the funeral services at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Eliza E. Bianck, 471 Park-ave., New York, Wednesday evening at 8. Interment private.

Interment private.

ROBERTSON—At the residence of her son-in-law, John C. Helmes, in Gross River, N. Y., on Sunday, December 6, 1891, Huidah H., wife of the late Henry Robertson, in the 90th year of her are.

Puneral services will be held at the Baptist Church, Cross River, on Tuesday, the 8th inst., at 1 p. m.

Carriages will meet train leaving Grand Central Station, Hariem Relirond, at 9:01 a. m. ROMAINE-Passed to spirit life Sunday evening, after prolonged illness, Wm. Hanson Romaine, aged 57 years Spiritusi services at his late residence, il. West 35th-st Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock. Friends invited. Interment private.

Interment private.

SCHOONMAKER-Suddenly, on December 5, at Brooklyn, Edgar S. Schoonmaker, aged 37 years, telatives, friends, officers and members of the 22d Regiment are respectfully invited to attend the funeral on this Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from his late residence, 73 St. Mark's-ave., Brooklyn. Hendquarters 22d Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y., Western Boulevard and 68th-st., New-York, Dec. 7, 1891.

Orders No. 78.

The commanding officer announces with regret the sudden death of Lieutenant Edgar S. Schoonmaker, of this command. Officers will assemble at the Armory in fatigue uniform, with everecats, at 12 o'clock, noon, Tuesday, December 8, 1891, to proceed to Brooklyn to pay the last tribute of respect to their late comrade. The usual badge of mourning will be worn for thirty days. By order of Colonel Camp.

STEPHEN F. HART, Adjustant.

Company B. 22d Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y., New-York, Dec. S. 1891—Order: The company will assemble at 11:15 o'clock this morning at the armery in fatigue uniform and overcoats to attend the funeral of Lieut. Edgar S. Schoonmaker. By order of CAPTAIN MAIDHOF.

SMITH-At his residence, 31 West 19th-s., Friday, De cember 4, 1891, Dr. Charles D. Smith, aged 77 years Puneral services at Calvary Church, 21st-st. and 4th-ave. Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock.
Interment at New-Dorp, S. I.

Interment at New-Dorp, S. I.

STARR—At Orange, N. J., Docember 4, 1801, Minnie E.
Smith, eidest daughter of Caleb A. and Mary J. Smith, and wife of Charles Star.

Funeral services will be held at her late home. No. 206
Main-st., Orange, on Tuesday, Docember 8, at 2:30 p. m.
Train leaves Barclay and Christopher sts. at 1:30 p. m.
THOMPSON—On Sunday, December 6, 1891, Bonjamin
Thompson, aged 71 years.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend funeral services at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. A. Link, 218 Edgecombe-ave. Tuesday, December 8, at 8:30 p. m.
Interment at Wellkill.

VOORBILS—At Hackgrough, December 6, Honjatist.

OCRHIS-At Hackensack, December 6, Hanrietta R. Iarris, widow of the late John 1. Voorbis. WARING-At Newport, R. I., December 5, Virginia, wife of George E. Waring, Ir., aged 57 years.

> MOUNT HOPE CEMETERY. Office, 380 6th-ave., corner 23d-st., N. Y.

Special Notices.

Special Notices.

M. Knoedler & Co.

(Successors to GOUPIL & CO.),

OIL PAINTINGS,

WATER-COLOR DRAWINGS, ETCHINGS AND ENGRAVINGS

SPECIAL STUDY MADE OF ARTISTIC AND APPROPRIATE FRAMING.

SUITABLE HOLIDAY GIFTS.

170 5TH-AVE., COR. 22D-ST.

PERMANENT VALUE FINE PICTURES AT MODERATE PRICES, HIGH CLASS ETCHINGS, ENGRAVINGS AND WATER COLORS.

FREDERICK KEPPEL & CO., Paris and 20 East 16th-st., Between Union Square and Fifth-ave

Bangs & Co., 730 AND 741 BROADWAY, WILL SELL AT AUCTION THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, DEC. 16 AND 17.

AT 3 P. M., A Collection of Standard and Illustrated BOOKS. CHOICE AND LIMITED EDITIONS. Biography, History, Travels, Essays and Poetry, small working Library of Books on Life Assurance.

fow valuable Medical Books, etc., including a number of new publications, both American and English. Drinty China is an acceptable gift.
See our DINNER SETS, from $15.
Our DRESDEN CHINA is worthy of your inspection.
Call at WILHELM & GRAEF'S,

Broadway and 26th-st.

Howard & Co., TWO SIXTY FOUR FIFTH AVENUE.

> PEARL NECKLACES FROM 625 TO 825,000.

> > Delegate

Republican Primary Elections.

The Republican voters enrolled in the several Assembly Districts of the city and county of New-Yark will meet at the places hereinafter named on TUESDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1891, for the purpose of electing in each district a president

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1891, for the purpose of electing in each district an ascend vice-president, a treasurer, a secretary, a sergeant-at-arms, and five inspectors of elections for the District organization, the number of delegates to the County Committee to which the district is entitled and a district committee consisting of as many members as there are election districts in the Assembly District, except that in the Twenty-fourth Assembly District there shall be a committee for the Twenty-third Ward, to consist of thirty members; for the Twenty-fourth Ward, excluding the former town of Kingsbridge, a committee to consist of the treatment of the former town of Kingsbridge, a committee to consist of seven members. The number of delegants The number of delegates to which each district is entitled is as follows:

First Assembly District. First Assembly District.
Second Assembly District.
Third Assembly District.
Fourth Assembly District.
Fifth Assembly District.
Fifth Assembly District.
Seventh Assembly District.
Seventh Assembly District.
Ninth Assembly District.
Tenth Assembly District.
Therenth Assembly District.
Tweitth Assembly District.
Tweitth Assembly District.
Thirteenth Assembly District.
Fifteenth Assembly District.
Sixbeenth Assembly District.
Sixbeenth Assembly District.
Sixbeenth Assembly District.

Eighteenth Assembly District, No. 215 East Thirtyfourth street.
Ninetectith Assembly District, Linden Hall, West Sixty-street.

Twenty-first Assembly District, No. 105 East Fifty-ninth street.
Twenty-second Assembly District, No. 1,228 Third avenue.
Twenty-third Assembly District, Kohring's Hall, 116th street and Second avenue.
Twenty-third Ward, Turn Hall, No. 585 Courtlands Twenty-fourth Ward, 177th street and Vanderbilt

Twenty-fourth Ward, 1 read of the Archive and Archive

JACOB M. PATTERSON. Chairman of the Executive Committee.

Letters for foreign countries need not be specially addressed for dispatch by any particular steamer, except when it is desired to send duplicates of banking and commercial documents, letters not specially addressed being sent by the fastest vessels available.

Fossign mails for the week ending December 12 will close (promptly in all cases) at this office as follows:

TUESDAY—at 7 a. n. for Europe, per s. s. Tave, via Southampton and Brennen (letters for Ireiand must be directed "per Trave"); at 11 a. m. for Fortune Island, Haytl and Cathagena, per s. s. Alvo; at 1 b. m. (supplementary 1 30 p. m.) for St. Doningo and Turks Island, per s. s. Saginav. At 8 a. m. (supplementary 10 a. m.) to Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Queenstown (letters for Europe, per s. s. Germanic, via Alvande, via Alvande, revious day.

Extra Supplementary Mails are opened on the piers of a English and French steamers at the hour of closing Supplementary Mails at the Postofice, which remain the nutil within ten minutes of the hour of sailing of comer.

CORNELIUS VAN COTT, Postmaster.

Postofice, New-York, N. Y., December 4, 1891.

Religions Notices.

ADVENT MISSION from December 6th to 16th,

Calvary Church, Consty, will preach daily bubLky, of Kentucky, will preach daily at 4 p. m. Dr. VAN DE WATER daily at 4 p. m. 4U are release.